Sectional & Terminal Area Raster Aeronautical Charts

The National Aeronautical Charting Office is now producing Sectional Raster and Terminal Area Raster Aeronautical Charts. A Raster Aeronautical Chart is a scanned image of a VFR chart that has been georeferenced. Additional digital data may easily be overlaid on the raster image using commonly available Geographic Information System software. Data such as weather, temporary flight restrictions, obstacles, or other geospatial data can be combined with Raster Aeronautical Chart data to support a variety of needs.

The file resolution is 200 dots per inch and 8-bit color. The data is provided as a GeoTIFF and distributed via DVD-R media. The root mean square error of the transformation will not exceed two pixels. The data is valid for the 28-day cycle printed on the DVD label. Raster Aeronautical Charts are available by subscription and one-time sale.

Three different DVDs will be produced every 28 days (13 issues per year) and will contain the Sectionals and TACs for each of three regions: East, West, and Alaska. Sectional coverage by region is as follows: East: Atlanta, Brownsville, Charlotte, Chicago, Cincinnati, Detroit, Green Bay, Halifax, Houston, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Lake Huron, Memphis, Miami, Montreal, New Orleans, New York, St Louis, Washington; West: Albuquerque, Billings, Cheyenne, Dallas Ft Worth, Denver, El Paso, Great Falls, Hawaii, Klamath Falls, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Omaha, Phoenix, Salt Lake City, San Antonio, San Francisco, Seattle, Twin Cities, Wichita; Alaska: Anchorage, Bethel, Cape Lisburne, Cold Bay, Dawson, Dutch Harbor, Fairbanks, Juneau, Ketchikan, Kodiak, McGrath, Nome, Point Barrow, Seward, Western Aleutian Is, Whitehorse.
